A New Website for PPL

In the age of social media, websites are still the core online presence for libraries and businesses. The PPL website had served us well for many years, but it was time for an update. We have proudly launched the new website and it offers a wide range of information for all ages. Not only does it provide quick access to the library catalog and your account, it also offers well-organized ways to find everything from museum passes, and research help, events at the library for all ages, wonderful reading suggestions, and more. It is also mobile ready so it works well from your smartphone or tablet. If you haven't seen our website lately, now is the time to check it out. You might decide to sign up for Summer Reading while you’re there too.

Traveling this summer? Pick up some of our audio books for the ride.

Need some suggestions?
Checkout our staff picks: Devil in the White City by Erik Larson, The Girl on the Train by Paula Hawkins, or Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting by in America by Barbara Ehrenreich.

Join us July 20th at 7:00 P.M. to discuss In A Sun-burned Country, by Bill Bryson. Don't forget to mark your calendars Go Set a Watchman by Harper Lee is set to be released July 14th—reserve your copy today.

This summer we welcome author Michael Tougias, Rescue of the Bounty: Disaster and Survival in Superstorm Sandy, and photographer Lance Keimig on August 11th.

Looking to awaken that inner artist? Participate in our adult coloring classes July 9th and August 5th at 6:30. Coloring supplies will be provided.

Ever wonder how to buy and sell online? Join us for an EBay tutorial—we will review the ins and outs of purchasing July 7th and selling July 14th.

Each book you read counts towards an entry into our biweekly drawing and the grand finale drawing. The full details are available on our website on in the brochure for the Adult Summer Reading program. Audio and E-books count towards an entry as well, but all materials need to be part of the SAILS network. We want to hear what our patrons are reading; write a review and share it in the library. Register online (www.readsinma.org/pembroke) or at the main desk—free library tote for the first 200 people! Celebrate the end of summer with us August 29th at 6:30 P.M. We will be sharing desert and our favorite reads.

Don’t miss out. Run into the library during July and bid silently on some great stuff donated by our members, library patrons, and local businesses. Bids are accepted until 5 pm on Friday, July 31st. Winners will be notified beginning Saturday, August 1st.

Check out our on-going book sale at the front of the library.

In addition to our twice yearly Book and Bake Sales, the Friends have an on-going book sale cart at the front of the library.
