We hope you find something to

Video Games? In the Library? Why?

Video games have been coming into libraries over the past several years. Our own Wii game collection is six years old and the Nintendo DS collection is nearing its third year. We continually work to bring in a variety of materials that suit our community's needs and interests, so video games have been a natural step. Even retirement homes advocate Wii fitness and plenty of small children know their way around a computer. Let the Library help fuel your next game night or experimentation with a new game style!

But why do we even have these? Shouldn't kids and teens be reading? Or going outside? Or helping with household chores? Of course! But video games can also hold a place in a healthy lifestyle.

Many studies reveal the benefits of video games in multiple aspects of physiology including vision, fine motor skills, reaction times, spatial awareness, and attention span. Video gaming provides many opportunities for learning with practice developing and applying leadership, creative problem solving and strategizing, memory, and more in a variety of situations that can then be applied to real life. If you're curious for more on this topic, we recommend Daphne Bavelier's TED Talk "Your brain on video games" available on YouTube.

Moderation is a good practice, to be sure. We do the same with chocolate – a little is good for you, but too much is harmful! You can find a balance that suits your family.

Adult Summer Reading *Another Fun Summer!

The summer flew by, but don't they all? There were 245 adults signed up for the Summer Reading Program and they read over 600 books this summer. We offered a wide range of fun and informative events, from the secrets of buying and selling on Ebay to the tragic tale of the Tall Ship Bounty. Adults attended book discussions and movies, and explored the joy of coloring. There was something for everyone. Several of the events were funded through a grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services and administered by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners. The Friends of the Pembroke Public Library sponsored all the prizes. It was a great summer, and we are looking forward to the upcoming events this fall.

Chess Club for All Ages

Beginning on September 11th, the Chess Club will meet each Friday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Young Adult Lounge. Join Chessmaster Matthew Petillo whether you have been playing for years or are just starting!

Upcoming Adult Events Here Comes Fall!

Thursday, September 3rd at 6:30 PM. Bring Back the Joy of Coloring.

Adults have rediscovered how relaxing the simple act of coloring can be. Unleash your joy and creativity, and reconnect with your inner artist. Coloring sheets, markers, colored pencils and crayons will be provided. This event is funded by a grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services and administered by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners.

Wednesday, September 9th at 10 AM. Morning Yoga.

Thursday, September 17th at 5:30 PM. Movie and Popcorn Night.

This month's wonderful showing is The Second Best Exotic Marigold Hotel. This charming sequel follows The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel characters several months after the events in the first film. The all-star cast includes Judi Dench, Maggie Smith, Dev Patel and Richard Gere.

Thursday, October 1st at 6:30 PM. Bring Back the Joy of Coloring.

Adults, unleash your joy and creativity and reconnect with your inner artist through coloring. Coloring sheets, markers, colored pencils and crayons will be provided.

Tuesday, October 6th at 7 PM. Book Discussion.

The Nightingale by Kristin Hannah. This novel tells the stories of two sisters, separated by years and experience, by ideals, passion and circumstance, each embarking on her own dangerous path toward survival, love, and freedom in German-occupied France.

Wednesday, October 7th at 7 PM. Mass Murder: Massachusetts' Most Infamous Murders.

This one-hour lecture is an entertaining and fascinating look at some of Massachusetts' most infamous murder cases, both solved and unsolved. Audiences that relish mystery, suspense and a little blood and gore will love this lecture. It is fully illustrated with photographs and artwork culled from archival, microfilm and literary sources. Many of the murder sites and historical locations have been photographed in order to give the audience a sense of the modern day context of the crimes. Also available at the lecture will be Christopher Daley's newly released book "Murder and Mayhem in Boston: Historic Crimes in the Hub."

Thursday, October 22nd, 5:30 PM. Movie and Popcorn Night.

This month's movie is The Best of Me, based on the best seller by Nicholas Sparks. The film stars James Marsden and Michelle Monaghan. No need to register, all are welcome.

Staff Picks

Staff Picks

Wondering what the staff here at the library is reading? These are some of our favorites!

Not surprisingly, many members of the staff of the Pembroke Public Library are avid readers. But Miss Melissa, youth services librarian extraordinaire, has raised recreational reading to a new level. Her tastes are broad and eclectic, and she regularly reads several books at once with a few more on deck. At the completion of a book Melissa usually posts an online review, incorporating her extensive knowledge of authors and genres to give a fuller picture of the book and its potential appeal. For this issue of the PPL Newsletter, Melissa has selected some sweetly imaginative stories of alternate universes which she has particularly enjoyed. Here are the reviews she has shared, in her own uniquely entertaining voice.

A Corner of White

by Jaclyn Moriarty: A Corner of White is a sweet mixture of Terry Pratchett and a fizzy soda (odd metaphor, but stick with me). It has many of those whimsical elements that entice a reader and say, "I already know what's happening here, so you should try to figure it out as you go along," but it has a much more jubilant, young adult flavor, like that of a fizzy soda, tickling your nose and making you want just a little more.

This is really a novel of exposition, however. The story and world has great potential, but this story is only getting started, so readers will look forward to the sequels as events quickly unravel.

Fortunately, the Milk

by Neil Gaiman: A trip down to a corner store for milk has never been such an adventure in time and space (not to mention questionable redecoration choices).

Gaiman artfully crafts a cute and quick story about why one father is late returning home after buying a bottle of milk. Everything from the nonsense words to the illustrations brings a tiny smile or a loud laugh as a man and a stegosaurus simply try to save the universe and get home in time to drink tea. This is truly a priceless little tale and is sure to be a crowd-pleaser. A combination of The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy and The Phantom Tollbooth!

Etiquette and Espionage (Volume One of the Finishing School series)

by Gail Carriger: With the same charm and wit Carriger used in her

Parasol Protectorate series, this author enters the YA scene with grace, poise, and a number of fashionable but deadly accessories. When fourteen-year-old Sophronia is sent away to Finishing School she expects to perish of boredom, but instead is flung into classes that include supernatural defense lessons as well as how to plan for a dinner party (often at the same time). In addition, a mystery is brewing beneath the surface of the floating (dirigible) Finishing School and Sophronia plans to be in the thick of it.

This is a strong start to a light steampunk series with plenty of quirky but loveable characters and interesting steam-powered devices, such as the adorable mechanical Bumbersnoot, around every corner. The writing itself is fun and the situations Sophronia and her companions find themselves in add to the chances for giggling or outright laughter whilst reading.

Thank you, Melissa, for sharing some of your current favorites and reminding us of the many ways we can venture out of our reading ruts this fall. For more staff suggestions, visit the Staff Favorites shelf on the left side of the library's main reading room, or speak to the friendly associates at the front desk!

Friends of Pembroke Library News - friend to friend

September 2015

Thank you everyone for your support!

The 7th Annual July Silent Auction was a great success! We raised over $1800 for our library as a result of the outstanding donations we received and the bidding from all of our library patrons and Friends. A big thank you from The Friends to everyone who donated to the auction, to those who participated by placing bids, and the winners. We would also like to thank our great volunteers for seeking out donations and organizing the event, and the library staff for their support and assistance. If you did not get a chance to participate this year, watch for information for next July! Our favorite fundraiser will return in 2016.

Another way you can participate to help raise funds for our wonderful library is to become a Friend. At any time during the year, you can join for only $10 or your whole family can become members for just $20. If you are a business owner, consider a $50 corporate sponsorship. Membership dues are an important part of our yearly fundraising efforts and help us to provide many extras for our library, such as new technology and classes, Pembroke-Only bestsellers, the Bookpage newsletter, music and reading programs and museum passes.

Want to help in an active way? The Friends are looking for active board members and other volunteers. We meet the second Tuesday of every other month. Our annual meeting this year is on October 13th at 7 pm in the meeting room of the Pembroke Public Library. We are looking for volunteers to help at our book sales, basket raffle event, and other fundraisers. We are also looking for help with our website, Paypal, and other creative ways to raise funds for the Pembroke Public Library. If you are interested in helping in any way, please contact Pam DeMoucell - oof2@aol.com or Bonnie Bowler - bonz-b1@verizon.net.
